Look out for Canadian songstress and slide guitarist Rachelle van Zanten, whose raw melange of blues, folk, Americana and serious guitar-shredding is currently shaking up an audience of its own.

She has come a long way from her bluegrass upbringing in the foothills of northern British Columbia, recently recording a rock album, "Where Your Garden Grows" with producer Joby Baker (Cowboy Junkies, Alex Cuba, Mae Moore) and world-renowned sound engineer, Tchad Blake (Sheryl Crow, Paul Simon, Tom Waits, Los Lobos, Pearl Jam). "This sophomore album features an eclectic batch of personal, straight from the heart lyrics highlighted by intricate string and rhythm arrangements that should find a home in the ears of rock n' roll junkies everywhere." (Relix Magazine-Feb '09)

Rachelle is a unique and eclectic Americana singer-songwriter much in the style of Lucinda Williams. Rachelle has performed with such greats as Feist, Blue Rodeo, Clarence Gatemouth Brown and Garth Hudson; and has supported International acts that include the Indigo Girls, Eagle Eye Cherry and Dar Williams. Rachelle's recent tour schedule took her through Canada, the United Kingdom, Germany, Holland, Belgium, France, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, India and Nepal.

In her "spare" time she is the producer of Western Canada's Rocker Girl Camp- a motivational music camp for girls ages 10-16 (www.rockergirlcamp.com).
